Fig 1. We could talk about how the bike handles, or the attention to details, but c'mon... just shove a cold beer down your pants and we'll meet you at the back door of the bike shop.

Fig 2. This is the bike that should be underneath every butt across North America. Buy them by the dozen and distribute. It's a great beater bike that actually isn't a beater at all. Fenders? Yes.

Fig 2. With this model, Kona once again reclaims the longest model name in the bike industry. So to go along with this much sought after achievement, we've also thrown in one of the coolest bikes we've ever made. Yes, we used the word 'Cool'. Once again, moving towards the unconventional.
